The Centre for Science Education and Communication is organizing a 3 day intensive workshop on Research Methodology from 11th to 13th of October, 2017. It follows a pragmatic hands-on approach to help students gain an overview of empirical research in different social sciences and to gain practical skills in undertaking research projects. It involves equal portions of theory (with real-life examples) and practical work. The primary learning outcome will be the ability to undertake independent and mentored research projects - from drafting a proposal to publishing a research paper.

The major topics covered are the characteristics of good research, undertaking research projects, reviewing literature, academic writing and publishing, research designs for empirical studies, tools and methods for data collection and analysis, and research ethics.

Important Dates:

Application deadline: 9th October, 2017

Announcement of selection: 10th October, 2017

Workshop dates: 11th - 13th October, 2017 (10 a.m. - 5 p.m.)

Eligibility & Selection:

- All enthusiastic and dedicated learners are invited to apply.

- The basic eligibility for selection is a strong functional knowledge of using the internet. To test this ability, the online application involves a quiz. You are free to use Google for this section.

- The application will also contain a 50 word short-essay question to which you will have to give a clear answer along with one structured argument to justify your stance.

- Note: Students who have already completed formal coursework in research methodology and/or practicum may find portions of the course repetitive.
